

Web Design & Content Officer

You will be responsible for overseeing the planning, organization, creation, and publishing of website content.

Where: home, nationwide

When: weekends, weekdays, evenings, flexible

Commitment: flexible

What will I be doing?

- determine the type, quality and quantity of content needed for the website
- monitoring the site's statistics, such as user demographics, traffic flow and search engine placement
- help make sure website is user-friendly, effective and appealing
- Design physical imagery, graphics and animations of website and position buttons, icons, links and photos
- Exploring opportunities to work with external partners to host content

What skills will I develop for my CV?

- Listening
- Problem Solving
- Creativity
- Staying Positive
- Aiming High
- Leadership
- Teamwork

What do I need?

- Imagination
- Patience
- Attention to detail
- Communication and analytical skills

What else do I need to know?

- Work is remote. Need access to computer and reliable access to internet.
- Able to communicate confidently and clearly with a variety of stakeholders

What's next?

Once you've registered interest in this role, a member of our team will be in touch to explain the next steps in your volunteer journey. We will review your CV, if successful, followed by an interview

For any queries please get in touch with us: volunteer@whiteroseeducation.co.uk